YORK COUNTY NEWS.

Items from the Yorkville Enquirer of Interest to Chester County People.

Robert Witherspoon who has been quite ill at his home in Yorkville for several days past continues to improve.

O. E. Grist of Yorkville is suffering with a broken collar bone sustained Wednesday while engaged in football practice.

Miss Rose Hunter who has been undergoing treatment in the Fennell Infirmary, Rock Hill has returned to her home in Yorkville.

Mr. L. H. Gentry of Fennell, removed to Yorkville with his family and is occupying the J. W. P. Hope residence.

At a meeting of the city council yesterday a resolution was adopted to permit the establishment of a bucket shop in the town on payment of a license fee of $100. This action was understood to be taken in behalf of Rock Hill parties who propose to bring a leased view from Rock Hill for that purpose.

The Kuykendall property on Main street, the property of W. L. Williams and R. D. Dorsett has been sold to J. Ross Cannon for a consideration of $1,000. It is reported that Mr. Cannon may install an automobile filling station, after tearing down the building on the property. Mr. Cannon could not be reached this morning.

Mr. John S. Sandifer who has been very ill at his home in Yorkville for several weeks past is so far recovered yesterday as to be able to sit up in bed and eat his dinner.

Frank James of Yorkville, who was seriously and painfully injured Saturday night on the Adams' Ford road near Yorkville when an automobile in which he and Messrs. C. J. Gauden and Jas. D. Grist were riding was reported this morning as having gotten along nicely at the Fennell Infirmary, Rock Hill. He will probably be returned to the home of his father this week. The other two victims of the wreck have both recovered from their injuries.

John R. Logan and Miss Gladys James of Yorkville were injured Saturday night on the Adams' Ford road at a point near Latta school house about two miles east of Yorkville yesterday afternoon when a Dodge automobile in which they were going to Rock Hill left the road and went into a ditch. Theory is that a defective steering gear caused the wreck. Neither of the occupants of the car were injured.

Robert McGinnis, former Southern railway watchman, charged with robbing P. L. Hixson, a local center of Yorkville, with a pistol at the McGinnis home on Cemetery street, Yorkville, September 16, was released Tuesday on $5,000 bail. McGinnis, $800, signed by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stewart of the Hawthorn mill, Clover. Mr. Hixson is reported as recuperating rapidly from his injury. Fennell Rock Hill will probably be able to return to his home in Yorkville this week.

A party led by Constable Johnson, Chief Potts and Constable Patterson, of Port Mills and Deputy John Robinson captured a burglar in the northeast corner of Port Mills township yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock, after an all night vigil. The officers were positioned that certain parties who were known to be making whisky in the neighborhood, were arranging to transfer a quantity of whisky to a party who was to be armed with warrants, with the idea of picking something up. After waiting all night on the road in the vicinity and seeing nobody, they went down to the house of R. C. Wilson and Fred Abernathy. Abernathy was at the house and Wilson was at the barn. They were told by the officers that they had a warrant for the search of the house. Abernathy ran away, and Wilson taking the alarm did likewise. In the barn there was a wagon piled up with sugar cane and hay, and underneath this there was a full barrel of whisky. The officers believe that a load of liquor had been taken to Charlotte during the previous night, and if they had waited a little longer or, perhaps until last night, they might have captured the party with the barrel together with a Hippo-bile.

KILLS YOUNG WOMAN.

Man Then Tries Wagon as Self-Defense.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 1.—Miss Hilda Shuckler, 26, was shot and fatally killed in her home last night by Donald McRae, 28, who then turned the revolver upon himself, inflicting a wound of which he died in a few minutes. No reason was advanced by the authorities or the families for the act but the two had been engaged to be married three years ago. Since then, however, Miss Shuckler had married another woman, by whom he is survived, and Miss Shuckler had been away, returning only a few days ago.

ARBUCKLE TO FACE ANOTHER CHARGE.

Federal Inspection Will Allege Unlawful Possession of Liquor in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Robert H. McCormick, special assistant to the United States attorney general, announced tonight that he would file today a federal indictment charging Jesse "Fatty" Arbuckle with unlawful possession of liquor. He today submitted to a federal grand jury evidence purporting to show a statewide liquor ring as developed by the inquiry into the expense of a limo consumed by guests at Arbuckle's party September 2, at which he charged Miss Virginia Rappe received injuries which resulted in her death.

The grand jury was in session only a short time. McCormick stated it was his intention to supply information he had to date and submit further evidence to the grand jury. McCormick charged, with the headquarters from which the Arbuckle limo was purchased, that it was a small quantity of liquor was seized.

McCormick said he would name the names of the persons who had declined to make public their names. He asserted one would be a prominent San Francisco business man who was present for a social time at Arbuckle's party. This man McCormick said had been allowed to make a business trip to Portland, Ore., where he was to be present at a meeting in San Francisco within the next few days.

REPUBLICAN SITUATION PUZZLE IN S. CAROLINA.

Only the Leaders in Washington Appear to Know What It Is All About.

Columbia, Sept. 30.—The republican situation in South Carolina is still a puzzle to those outside of Washington, and there is still guessing as to the general course that the plans for the formation of an entirely new republican party for the state did not carry, as was at one time anticipated, and which also conceded that Joe W. Tolbert, the old dry fox of the state, has not been and will hardly be shelled as official advice for republican affairs of the state. At the same time, it is indicated that the effort to have the party cleaned of the old republican of Tolbert has not been abandoned, and is even yet bringing forth fruit in the state.

It is understood that a meeting of the republican leaders in Washington, at an early date, is at this time further plans for the G. O. P. line-up in South Carolina will be discussed. It is known that Tolbert has had a great deal to do lately with several political appointments. It is also reported that the appointment of Joseph A. Tolbert, son of the late Joe W. Tolbert, as assistant district attorney for the western district, was a Tolbert affair. On the other hand, while Tolbert has had a great deal to do lately with several political appointments, it is also reported that the appointment of G. L. B. Rivers, of Charleston, as assistant district attorney for the eastern district, was a Tolbert affair. He has been pushing to do with it.

The state most important "plums" in the state have not yet fallen, and Tolbert's selectors have not been in all cases agreeable to the national G. O. P. leaders, and that the new election in South Carolina republican line is being heard in Washington, as well as Tolbert. The district attorney of the eastern district is still held by Francis H. Weston, whose effectiveness in the administration of the office has been acceptable to all parties. The collector of internal revenue is still an office without an office holder, though the acting collector, Mr. Bradley, is making an excellent public servant. The collector of the port at Charleston is still a holder of democratic nomination. Two marshals of the federal courts are still unfilled by G. O. P. followers. And there are many offices on which eyes of eager republicans are falling.

A conference of republican leaders, to be attended by several South Carolinians, is to be held in Washington early in October. Following this conference it is expected that some sort of announcement will be made by the G. O. P. leaders in regard to the future policies in this state.

Among names that have already been prominently brought to the fore in connection with the republican interests of South Carolina are those of C. C. Campbell of Columbia, D. C. Campbell of Meriden, Ed. Dufant of Charleston, George B. Wheeler of Orangeburg, and others. It is not known yet who will attract the greatest following in Washington, but it is likely that several of these leaders will be there.

ROOM FOR SINGLE WOMEN.

There is a world call for her. Not because of any political rights she may possess, nor on account of any self-assumption on her part, nor because of any determination she may have made to stand up to the front, but because there is a real need of her, and a place for her.

We say this call has come to the unmarried woman of our day, for the reason that she has proved her self worthy of it. In the time of the world's greatest stress, her service was not only needed, but she was called upon to undertake it. No prison so dark that she did not cheer it by her presence. No soldier so lonely as she who did not cheer him by her smiles. The world is richer by reason of the work done by these heroes of the cross, and one of the greatest spots in an otherwise gloomy story is the tale which tells of their untiring devotion to the cause of humanity.

And now the work is over. Those young women have come back quietly to take their places in any place, and in every place, where they are needed. The national government needs them, and the state government needs them. Offices, professions of all kinds, and places of business of every name and nature summon them to do the best they can, to give to that is trust and noblest in them to help and to cheer and to bless their fellow men.

Now it is always out where the light shines brightest that the young women of our day are needed. In a million homes they are doing good, in a million ways, and that somebody may be happy. They feel that here is a call for them just as clear as that which summons them to do the best they can, to give to that is trust and noblest in them to help and to cheer and to bless their fellow men.

MEN ARE WOUNDED IN TEXAS BATTLE.

Sheriff's posse Clash With Ku Klux Parade. Shooting Starts When Sheriff of McLennan County Attempts to Seize Flag.

Waco, Texas, Oct. 1.—Fifteen men were wounded in a gunfight between a sheriff's posse and participants in a Ku Klux Klan parade at Lorena, 14 miles south of here, tonight.

The fight took place at the intersection of the main business streets, where several thousand people had gathered to witness the parade, which Sheriff Buchanan of McLennan county, leader of the posse, stepped in front of the approaching column and attempted to wrest the American flag from the leading white clad figures.

In the free-for-all fighting which ensued, Sheriff Buchanan was shot twice, once in the neck and once in the body, and Lewis Cook, assistant football coach at Baylor university here, a member of the posse, was severely cut. Burton, Carl West and Will Lawson also were wounded, although the extent of the injuries has not been ascertained.

Sheriff Buchanan, while waiting at a local hospital to have his wounds dressed, said to a newspaper man: "Just say that the whitecaps shot me."

"I begged and pleaded with them to halt the parade," he added, "but they would not hear me."

Pressed for details as to the encounter, the sheriff appeared too weak from excitement and loss of blood to continue and was only able to say vague replies to further questions.

NATIVE HAWAIIAN SINGING AND DANCING IN "A HINA IN HONOLULU."

NO KU KLUX INQUIRY.

Proposed Grand Jury Investigation Called Off.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—A proposed grand jury investigation into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Cleveland was called off by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton late today after Charles W. Love, grand juror for Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois Kentucky and West Virginia, Earl Rockaway, king klesgale for Ohio, and Chester W. Totten, chief of police for Cleveland, voluntarily appeared for examination.

STARVES RATHER THAN TAKE HELP FROM NEIGHBORS.

Pitiful Story of Family is Told by Officials in Columbia City.

Columbia, Sept. 28.—The story of a woman from starvation of a white woman in one of the counties in the southwestern part of the state is described by officials of the state child placing bureau to day in describing what is considered one of the most horrible deaths the state has ever recorded.

The woman's husband had deserted her, and surrounded by her six small children, the youngest of whom was eighteen months old she lay dead, stretched on the floor by the side of the bed, in a dying condition.

The husband was a share-cropper. He lost money on his cotton, and rather than stay and work for his wife and babies he left home, leaving the family to fight alone.

The mother was too proud to accept help from her white neighbors, according to the officials of the child placing bureau, but did take a few crumbs from the colored people for her children. But this was not enough to sustain life, and her life went out like the light of an oil lamp.

Mrs. Claire Kears, the child placing officer, returned to Columbia yesterday, after visiting the motherless home and burying the body of the dead woman, and with her she brought three of the children who are pitifully emaciated from their battle against hunger.

Mrs. Kears is now seeking homes for these little ones. One is five, another three and the smallest eighteen months.

MOTOR SHOPS WILL BE USED BY HIGHWAY BOARD.

Columbia, Sept. 30.—The state highway department has arranged with the war department at Washington for the rental of the motor shops at Camp Jackson, for the care and storage of motor trucks and other equipment used in road building. A conference is to be held at an early date to determine just what buildings and how much land the highway department will need.

GEORGIA OFFICERS PREVENT LYNCHING.

Rush Negro, Held by Coroner's Jury on Murder Charge, to Macon Jail.

Macon, Ga. Oct. 1.—George Clark, one of two negroes named by a coroner's jury at Forsythe as the slayers of C. H. Winn, and three other negroes arrested in connection with the case, were rushed to the county jail here at 9:30 o'clock tonight to prevent a lynching.

Winn's body was found weighted down in a shallow stream near Forsythe yesterday. His head having been crushed in with an axe. His body was tied up in a bed quilt, and there was a sack over his head.

Macon county officers who investigated the murder claim to have found evidence that the crime occurred in a negro house occupied by Maude McIntire. The McIntire woman and her daughter were among those brought here for safe-keeping. The other man rushed here is known as James McIntire.

The other man named by the coroner's jury of Monroe county as the slayer of Winn is Will Phinney, a negro, for whom a reward has been offered. The officers of several counties are hunting for him.

In hunting through the home of the negro woman today the sheriff claims to have found several blood-stained articles of clothing hidden in a mattress.

WORK OF BUREAU FOR JOBS STUDIED.

Committee of Unemployment Conference to Make Reports Public Oct. 5.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Development of more complete data on the functioning of public employment services in relation to the problem of affording relief to unemployed was sought by the national conference on unemployment today on resuming its public hearings.

A number of witnesses, including Dr. John Price Jackson, formerly Pennsylvania commissioner of labor and industry, were on hand for examination on this phase of the problem. The various committees of the conference rapidly completing their recommendations for emergency relief simultaneously with the work of the hearings, the committee assigned to emergency measures by manufacturers was said today already to have reached unanimous agreement on a program to be recommended in that field. The committee's report, which will not be made public until submitted to a conference, when it convenes October 5, is understood to suggest some rearrangement of working time to permit employment of a greater number of workers.

Included in the membership of this committee are Charles M. Schwab, of New York, and Samuel Gumpers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee on state and municipal measures and public works also understood to have about completed its report. The committee would recommend greater activity in public works, especially road construction.

SPLENDID PROGRESS MADE IN SIGNING UP COTTON.

Columbia, Sept. 28.—Splendid progress is reported from various sections of the state in the cotton cooperative marketing campaign, according to officials of the South Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association, canvass for signatures to the contract will soon be under way in a number of additional counties.

R. C. Hamer, president of the South Carolina Division of the American cotton growers' association, will speak at a meeting to be held in Lancaster Thursday to launch the campaign in that county. D. B. Anderson, of Spartanburg, member of the organization committee of the cooperative association, spoke at Laurens Saturday, and Alfred Scarborough at Camden on Friday.

"Not only are the farmers of the state vitally interested in the movement but the bankers and business men of the state generally are displaying a great interest in it," the bankers in many of the counties in which the campaign has been launched have already endorsed it, most of them have used the farmers of their counties to sign the contract.

The bankers of Oklahoma, Georgia North Carolina, Mississippi and other states where the movement has been launched have also planned to have the case discussed today.

A coincidence in the case is that the cotton growers have been ready to represent John Henry. Macon negro, who is alleged to have killed Watson with an axe in the case of a slave in "Penitentiary" recently.

CONDITION COTTON CROP.

Washing, Sept. 28.—Mark weevil activity and unseasonal warm weather continuing to hamper the growth of the cotton crop during the week ending today, according to the weekly crop review of the national weather and crop bulletin.

"Little or no improvement in condition of the crop was reported from any section," said the bulletin, "while general deterioration occurred in the northwestern portion of the belt and very poor progress was reported in Texas."

Cotton bolls, however, continued to open very rapidly in all sections and picking and ginning made good progress, the bulletin added.

The crop was reported "fairly good" in parts of Alabama and Florida, northern North Carolina, Tennessee, and in the northern part of Alabama, and in the western part of Georgia, chiefly in a few sections of Texas, chiefly in the western belt.

Elsewhere, said the bulletin, cotton was generally very poor, with very little prospect of a top crop.

Picking was well advanced in Texas and about completed in much of the central and southern parts of the state. Practically all cotton has been gathered also in the southern half of Georgia, in the northern portion of Alabama, and in many localities of southern Alabama.

Weevil was reported spreading to the northwestern limits of the belt. Corn "matured nicely" in the southern districts.

TOBACCO SELLING PLAN SUCCEEDS IN VIRGINIA.

Co-operative Marketing Is Proving Its Worth With Sun-Cured Tobacco Farmers.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—That co-operative marketing was proving its worth to tobacco farmers can be said on successful became apparent today, when it was announced that the Virginia Tobacco and Growers' association, comprising in its membership a majority of the growers in the Richmond area, had sold through their selling agents, Frank Williams and partners, the entire crop of 1,165,000 pounds of sun-cured tobacco all of the 1920 crop.

The total price paid aggregated nearly $20,000, the average price of $16.25 per hundred which was obtained being nearly 37-in. excess of that received by non-association growers who sold their tobacco in the old way.

The success of the venture will doubtless prove of great interest to tobacco growers not only in Virginia but in the two Carolinas and Kentucky, where a movement is on foot to perfect a co-operative scheme for marketing the entire crop of those three states, together with Virginia.

MAKES AN ATTACK ON UNION LABOR.

Washington, Oct. 1.—An attack on union labor by Senator Wilson, republican, Minnesota, and a successful effort against a committee amendment which it was claimed would discriminate American ships in favor of foreign-built marked senate consideration of the republican tax revision bill.

Senator Nelson declared that the workmen themselves were responsible for the tariff revision bill. He said that the country because they would not consent to a readjustment of wages. To the railroad workers he said that they were responsible for the present high freight rates, asserting that until there was a reduction in high wages and bonuses "kicked during government control the people could not hope to get cheaper transportation tariffs."

Referring to the threatened strike of railroad workers, the Minnesota senator said he was getting tired of threats to live up the transportation system and thought there should be a show down.

DEAD BEFORE TRIAL.

Negro Not Living to Answer in Richmond.

Richmond, Oct. 1.—When the case of Anderson Watson, negro, charged with the theft of a tire bound, valued at $100, was called in police court today, it developed that he had been killed since his arrest.

According to the words "dead and buried" were inserted after his name on the docket.

Watson had been let out on bond, and was found dead in a ditch, two dogs, which he was alleged to have stolen. The wounds were reported through information furnished by him to his attorney, and he was planned to have the case dismissed today.

A coincidence in the case is that the cotton growers have been ready to represent John Henry. Macon negro, who is alleged to have killed Watson with an axe in the case of a slave in "Penitentiary" recently.

iments and classical arches characteristic of the Greek Doric type. Over the entrance which carries around the

FIGHT AT CHURCH

BREAKS UP SERVICE

One Loses Life While Greeks Battle

With Bible, Hymn Books and Cassioles.

New York, Oct. 2.-Services in the Greek Orthodox church at 155

West 15th street, New York, were broken up by a fight among the congregation which resulted in the death of Nicholas Varzakos, 44, a Greek Greek fish merchant and a member of the organization.

George Varzakos, the dead man's 18 year old son, told the police that the section of the church held by father's hands while the priest, the Rev. Kerkos Vafarakos, hit him over the head with a candlestick.

Dr. Benjamin M. Vance, assistant medical examiner, however, expressed the belief that he may have died from a heart attack. An autopsy will be performed tomorrow.

At the time of the fight, the priest, the priest and sexton were seated with summonses to appear at the district attorney's office tomorrow morning for further interrogation.

Members of the congregation told the police that the priest who has been at odds with some of the members of the church, including

Varzakos, was making the usual

Sunday announcements when the trouble occurred. The priest had declared the church would be closed for a week, when Varzakos started up the aisle toward the altar.

The congregation numbering about 100, divided into two groups, the Bible and hymn books, and apostles were sent flying across the floor. Police officers quelled the disturbance.

Death of Mr. W. G. Johnson.

Friends throughout Chester county will learn with sorrow of the death of Mr. William G. Johnson, which occurred at his home on Academy street Sunday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock after an illness of several days. Several months ago Mr. Johnson suffered a stroke of paralysis which rendered him helpless. He was a native of Chester and for a number of years was agent for the Southern Railway Co. at Anderson, S. C. In 1907 Mr. Johnson, with his family, came to Chester where he accepted the agency for the Southern Railway way here, resigning a few years later, becoming public cotton weigher and manager of the Chester County Farmers' Warehouse Company. Mr. Johnson was also engaged in the coal and cotton seed business.

He was a highly gentleman and for a number of years was an elder in the Presbyterian church at Anderson and since his residence in Chester he has been a devoted and consistent member of Purty Presbyterian church taking an active part in all things pertaining to a Christian life.

The funeral services were held at the home yesterday afternoon at four o'clock by Dr. Flourney Shepperson, pastor of Purty Presbyterian church, after which the remains were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Messrs. Wm. G., Jr., and J. F. Johnson and Misses Mary, Mabel and Margie Johnson; of Chester; Mr. Patterson Johnson, of Charlotte, N. C.; and Mrs. Harry Sargent, of Greensboro, N. C.

The Show Saturday Night.

The first attraction of the season to appear at the Chester Opera House will be "A Night in Honolulu," next Saturday night, which cannot very highly be recommended. This show toured parts of the South last season and everywhere the people were well pleased with it. Several places, including Greenville, S. C., is booking the show again this season, which in itself is conclusive proof that it is a good show. Mr. D. H. Gordon, critic for the Richmond Times Dispatch, and who is considered to be one of the best critics in the country says that "The crowd which filled the Academy last night to see the first performance in Richmond of 'A Night in Honolulu' were treated to a big surprise. Many were expecting something on the order of a poor 'Bird of Paradise,' or even the ever-remembered and terrible 'Hawaiian Butterfly'—and, instead, the most entertaining play unfolded."

Mr. Gordon ended his article by saying: "A Night in Honolulu," you say, is a highly satisfactory production. Unhappily, it outclasses many of our much-talked-of plays and musical comedies, which we looked forward to with such anticipation, and were doomed to view with disappointment. It should fill the theatre for its remaining three performances."

The records of the advance agent, who had the three performances were played to capacity houses since all Richmond knows that when Mr. Gordon says a show is good they know it is to be the better.

Defer Framing Wage Demands.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—Postponement until next February in the framing of coal miners' wage demands was voted today by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America. In doing so, the delegates overwhelmingly approved the recommendation of President John L. Lewis, who urged the delay so as not to disclose the miners' terms months before the expiration of present agreements with operators.

Although there was no discussion of new demands, the delegates indicated they favored a strike, if necessary, to obtain increases, for they approved the report of Vice President Murray, in which he deplored the failure of fighting for improvement of contracts in both anthracite and bituminous fields that expire next March 31.
